WORLD FAMOUS PACIFIC PLAN RESIDENT OF PLAN IS SOLD CONTRA COSTA TO WESTERN COUNTY DIES CARBON CO.

John Muir, One of the Greatest Scientists and Explorers, Friend of Kings and Presidents, Is Victim of Pneumonia.

Site at Martinez Was Chosen As Home By Great Naturalist After Extensive Travels in All Parts of the Globe.

John Muir, world famous naturalist and explorer, who chose Contra Costa county as his home for many years, died yesterday in Los Angeles of pneumonia. He was visiting his daughter at Daggett, San Bernardino county, when stricken and was rushed to Los Angeles for medical treatment. He was 76 years old.

His description of the Yosemite Valley first brought it into national fame, and his visit there left him with a love of the West which remained through all his travels and led him to make his home at Martinez, Cal., in his later years. He chose a site in the Contra Costa Valley, sheltered on one side by a wooded hill and surrounded on three others by vineyards, orchards and streams, confronted by the towering outline of Mount Diablo. The grounds were a riot of pines, palms, cacti and exotic vegetation, for botany was one of Muir's delights.

To the great glacier Muir discovered in Alaska in 1881 his name was given. Muir Woods on Mount Tamalpais was named from him.

He was the friend of royalty and Presidents, being a confidant of both Taft and Roosevelt. His work as a naturalist was so marked with his personality that his writings are among the treasured works of both literature and science.

FRENCH BUILDING AT EXPO. TO BE COMPLETED ON TIME

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 24.—Henri Guillaume, French architect, arrived here today to rush the building of the French pavilion at the Exposition, that it may be completed when the fair opens.

DEATH SADDENS CHRISTMAS OF PASTOR

The Christmas season was made one of sadness for Rev. Guy A. White, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, by the receipt of a telegram yesterday announcing the death of his father, Johnstone White, at his home, 1674 Hodge street, Portland, Wednesday.

Mr. White was 74 years old, but had been in the best of health and his death was entirely unexpected. He is survived by a widow, seven sons and three daughters.

Rev. Mr. White received the telegram from his brother, O. V. White, at Albany, Ore., and telegraphed two other brothers living in California. J. C. White of San Anselmo and M. L. (Dan) White of Madera.

The big carbon manufacturing plant of the Pacific Carbon Company, located at Twenty-first and Chanslor, has been sold to the Western Carbon Company of San Francisco. The local plant has passed from the management of W. L. Craig to N. D. Pike.

Pike is an experienced man in the carbon manufacturing business, and has extensive plans for the enlargement of the plant, as the San Francisco office plans to make the local factory the chief producer for its immense Pacific Coast business.

Already two new blast furnaces have been installed and more will be built, says Pike.

The company has an excellent location near the junction of the Santa Fe, Oakland branch, and the Southern Pacific, main line. It has spur tracks to both lines, and plenty of room for new building, which will be built, if the business enlarges to its expected size.

FORGER IS GIVEN SENTENCE OF 8 YEARS

Laurence Goldman, convicted of forgery, was yesterday sentenced to serve eight years in San Quentin penitentiary by Superior Judge Lattimer at Martinez.

Goldman, who is a negro, forged a check for $35.25 on the Mechanics' Bank of Richmond and had it cashed by Harry Prestos of the Coney Island Restaurant, 29 Washington avenue. He was arrested in San Luis Obispo and brought back to Richmond by Inspector Betts. Goldman was formerly employed at the Richmond garage, corner of Second street and Macdonald avenue.

UNKNOWN SANTA HANDS COPS GOLD

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—A mysterious automobile carrying a bewhiskered Santa Claus rolled down Fifth avenue today and at every crossing the traffic policeman was handed a five-dollar gold piece by Saint Nick.

X-RAY ON 1000 COTTON BALES

NEW YORK, Dec. 24.—To be certain that no Christmas presents of arms or ammunition were concealed in any of 10,000 bales of cotton consigned to Bremen, Germany, official representatives of the British government today inspected each bale with an X-ray as it was being loaded on the steamship.

RUSSIANS ADMIT RAPID ADVANCE OF TEUTON TROOPS

PETROGRAD, Dec. 24.—The war office admitted today that German and Austrian advances threatened the Cracow army's line of communications and compelled its withdrawal. The Teuton advance was directed against the main railroad running southwest from Ivangorod to Mieschew.

Russian troops are being rushed to check the steady advance of the Germans and Austrians, which forced the retirement from the Cracow district Wednesday.

PARIS.—The Germans are putting up a vigorous resistance against the onslaughts of the allies.

LONDON, Dec. 24.—The first of long expected attacks on England by German airships was executed this afternoon when an aeroplane dropped out of the clouds at Dover, swung over Dover castle and dropped a bomb. The bomb struck in a garden and exploded with little damage. Two British flyers went up immediately and the raider fled, escaping in the fog.

PARIS, Dec. 24.—A German aero-plane, trying to reach Paris, was pursued and brought down by the French air patrol at Pontoise, 19 miles northwest of Paris.

ATHENS, Dec. 24.—A French torpedo boat today attacked and bombarded Turkish troops concentrated at Gelkin, south of the western entrance to the Dardanelles. Turkish artillery replied, but was quickly silenced and the Turkish troops retreated inland.

ROME, Dec. 24.—Pope Benedict again today issued an appeal to all the combatants in the European war to lay down their arms.

His holiness is expected to make a public appeal in the cathedral on Christmas Day.

In receiving the cardinals who called today to extend Christmas greetings, Pope Benedict said that while his efforts to bring about the exchange of all prisoners of war have failed, he is now directing his efforts toward arranging for the exchange of wounded prisoners whose condition is such that they will be unable again to serve in the war.

SNOW DELAYS X-MAS MAIL

If your expected postal, letter or package from Eastern friends or relatives has not yet arrived, blame the Eastern weather. Snowfalls in the mountains and the Mississippi Valley have delayed all Eastern mails 24 hours.

TANKER CLEARS FOR DENMARK

The Standard Oil tanker Lucas was loaded with crude oil yesterday and cleared for Denmark by way of the Panama Canal. This is the first time a Standard Oil ship has left Richmond for Denmark. Captain Bunting will command the Lucas.

Today the tanker Richmond will leave for Panama with Captain Smith of the Atlas at the helm.

REV. STEWART TO PREACH FAREWELL SERMON

Rev. W. S. Stewart will preach his farewell sermon to the congregation of the Calvary Baptist church Sunday.

The pastor resigned from the pulpit of the local church several weeks ago. Since that time he has received a number of calls from churches in various cities of the state, but has not yet definitely decided to accept any of them.

He may take up general work for the church, in which case he will continue to reside in Richmond. A large congregation is assured the church next Sunday, as Stewart has proven his ability and his sincerity in preaching the gospel.

Saint Nick Slips Fiver Into Vest Tailor Presses It

Santa Claus pulled off a trick yesterday that has his chimney-climbing antics beaten a mile for originality.

Incidentally, if old man Diogenes is still walking around looking for an honest man, he can come to Richmond and blow out his lantern.

When E. R. Bushnell, linotype operator for the Daily News, called for a suit of clothes he had left with F. J. Schumacher, who operates a cleaning and pressing establishment at 331 Sixth street, Schumacher handed him a five-dollar bill.

Schumacher found it wadded in a small pencil pocket when he was pressing Bushnell's vest. Bushnell left it there months ago, or else Santa Claus slipped it into the vest.

ELKS AID POOR.

The local Elks, in accordance with their annual custom, aided six local families that were in dire need. Everything needed for a real Christmas has been supplied by the herd, even to Christmas trees.

WORKER INJURED WHILE LOADING LUMBER

While working unloading a carload of lumber at Giant yesterday, Frank Sweeney was caught between two heavy timbers that slid from the car and was badly bruised about the arms, legs and chest, besides sustaining a compound fracture of the right ankle. He was taken to the office of Dr. Camp and treated. He was so badly injured that it was several hours before he could be taken to his home.

Sweeney resides in San Pablo.

KAISER SENDS CHRISTMAS PRESENT TO THE ENGLISH

LONDON, Dec. 24.—A German aeroplane today dropped a bomb on the city of Dover. It fell in a garden and did little damage, declares the report of the official press bureau. Two British aeroplanes pursued, but the raider escaped in the fog.

TEACHERS NAMED FOR TWO NEW SCHOOLS

One week from Monday Richmond's two new kindergartens will be opened. Miss Mildred Brown and Miss Rene Kirkpatrick have been chosen to teach the small pupils of the schools.

Two lots have been purchased by the school board from Mr. Doll. They are located in block 108 and are four blocks east of the Pullman shops. The board plans to buy nine or ten more lots for the site. The building will go up some time in the spring. The plans for the school are the same as those of the school being built on Main street, near Twenty-third. Plans for the Forest and Fairmont schools are not yet ready.

DISHONORED OFFICER OF LOCAL LODGE KILLS SELF

Robert J. Moran, defaulting treasurer of the local Red Men, committed suicide.

His body was found yesterday afternoon in Raccoon Straits by a light-house keeper.

It was taken to the morgue in San Rafael and there positively identified by A. Dugan, sent by the Elks from Richmond.

It was at first reported that the body had been taken to San Francisco.

In the pockets of the dead man were found an Elks' knife given him at the recent convocation in Portland, which he attended; a pocket book with his initials, R. J. M., stamped on it.

When the first news was flashed Chief of Police Walker by a San Francisco newspaper, it was hoped that the identification had been a mistake. An officer from the local station was sent to San Francisco and a committee consisting of M. A. Hays, A. Dugan, Bert Curry and Stanley Wright, all friends of the dead man and members of the Elks, was sent by that organization.

Then followed a long, anxious wait. Richmond was buzzing with the news. The San Francisco morgue was telephoned and it was stated that no body answering the description had been given. Later it was learned that the body had been taken to San Rafael.

Close friends of the unfortunate man remained at the Elk club rooms until after midnight trying to get some definite word from San Rafael and hoping against hope that it was not Moran.

Yesterday morning posters with Moran's picture on them were sent all over the state, asking the various police departments to watch for him. The Elks also sent out circulars to every town to which the police circulars had been sent, telling Moran that if he would return and give himself up they would pay his bail and see him through.

Every effort was made to save the man, who was undoubtedly one of the most popular men in the city.

While there was a slight wound on the forehead of the dead man, it is believed that there was no foul play and that Moran killed himself.

The description telephoned the police last night was as follows: Weight 225 pounds; height, 5 feet 10 inches; about 38 years old; dark brown hair, blue eyes, high forehead; size of collar 17 1/2; laundry mark, 22; old wound on left shoulder.

A switch key found in his pocket with the number 503 was issued to Moran two years ago by the Oakland Traction Co. On the knife found in his pocket were the numbers of the Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda Elks' lodges.

According to Dr. John Kuehn, who performed the autopsy, the body had been in the water about 12 hours.

Yesterday a note was received by Mrs. Elizabeth Kaiser, at whose house on Sixth street Moran boarded. The note said:

"I could not leave without saying a word to you. I left my watch and chain and you will find an order on the traction company for $25 and my Elks' book. All is yours now."

"Give my love to the boys, Raymond and Daddy. May God bless you. Don't feel hurt, for I tried to

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

Merry Christmas!

It is the pleasantest salutation of the whole year. A cool, clear Christmas day and the streets thronged with people going to church, or to houses of friends, smiling, happy and greeting each other with

Merry Christmas!

Small boys with choo-choo trains or magic lanterns or steam engines, smiling, happy, busy. Little girls with dolls and doll clothes and shining bracelets, or whatever else little girls get from Santa Claus, proud, happy and busy matching gifts with the little girls next door.

Merry Christmas!

The morning wearing away towards dinner time with the house redolent with the fragrance of turkey and mince pie and plum pudding and cranberry sauce. And everybody hungry and waiting for the dinner call.

Merry Christmas!

It is fine that every year there is such a day as Christmas. Even though the days before Christmas sometime seem to be too crowded with purchasing; even if the spirit of giving seems to have become distorted sometimes, when Christmas Day arrives, we know that it was all worth while.

One sincere "Merry Christmas" pays for it all.

It has become a habit in Christmas editorials to speak of the many poor that will not have merry Christmases.

It has become the usual thing to remind people that all over the world there will be many that will be hungry and cold and miserable on this, the happiest day of the year.

But there isn't any reason for that. And it's useless. The poor are there. We admit that. Let's try to forget it for a day.

Admitted that all over the world the lot of the working people is a hard one. Admitted that it has grown worse and not better with the introduction of modern machinery and the efficiency of modern profit-grabbing.

Admitted that in Europe thousands and thousands of workers are being murdered and injured because the old system has proven rotten to the core, that King Competition has proven a rank failure and that the co-operative commonwealth must come and come soon or it will be bad for the world.

Admit that gaunt starvation stalks abroad, and that is as true as anything we can think of, and that it is hard to forget all this ugliness and suffering.

Admit that unemployment is a greater problem this winter than it ever has been before.

Admit that they will be given soup—that is, if they are not transients, remember.

We all, from the rankest conservative to the rankest radical, know it is true. We know it is wrong.

We know these are dark days for the workers of the world. Some 1900 years ago there were dark days for the workers of the world, and a little Jewish baby was born in Bethlehem who was to bring a message to the workers of the world, a message of deliverance and of peace on earth.

And if days are dark now they are no darker than they were then and there will come a way out.

Maybe of all the little babies that will be born today over the face of the earth there will be one who will grow up to show us the way out of bondage.

Merry Christmas!

STORY OF THE FIRST CHRISTMAS.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flocks by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them: Fear not, for behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the City of David, a Savior, which is Christ the Lord.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying:

Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will to men.

A Christmas Wedding

By OSCAR COX

Jim Ruggles drove a mule, and yet he was a grade higher than a mule driver. What put Jim up a peg was the fact that his mule towed a canal boat. Jim was not especially proud of his mule, but he was very proud of his boat. He could tie up nights, picket his mule and turn into the luxurious quarters in the stern for a good sleep.

Most of the other boats on that canal contained families. Jim was a lone bachelor, and when he passed other boats and saw clothes hanging out to dry he felt more lonely than ever, and when he saw dirty faced children looking at him out of the stern windows it made him positively homesick.

The hardest days for Jim to get through were holidays. There was one Christmas that he kept the towpath all day to drive away the blues. And even then he couldn't help seeing the windows along his route hung with ever greens and children running about showing one another the toys that Santa Claus had brought them.

There was a small house a short distance from the canal in which there lived an old woman. She kept chickens, a cow and several pigs. Jim had no interest in the place until one day when he was passing with his boat a comely young woman emerged from the house with a bucket in her hand and dumped the contents into the pig sty. Jim passed out of sight of the red checked girl with a bucket to the music of grunting pigs.

Men have fallen in love to the sound of a lute. Probably their refined natures could not have fallen into the same condition to the grunting of pigs struggling for swill. But Jim was not a gentleman; he was a mule driver. At any rate, that's exactly what he did. His lonely heart yearned for that red checked girl, and love was born within him on the same principle that it is born in a man listening to a lute.

As Jim went back and forth on the towpath whenever he passed that house he looked for the girl with the red cheeks. One day he reached the place just as she stepped out into the yard. Naturally, seeing a boat moving by, she looked at it. Then, seeing Jim, she looked at him. He was only a man driving a mule attached to a canal boat, but perhaps she was sighing for a mate, just as Jim was. At any rate, she didn't look away till she had noticed an admiring look on Jim's honest, but homely, face. As he passed on she continued to look at him.

The next time she saw the boat go by it was in the late fall, but the ice had not closed navigation. Jim had an overcoat buttoned tight around him and was smoking a short pipe. On the deck of his boat was a board propped up to show chalked letters, "Christmas is coming."

How did that girl know that this was a message for her? Maybe she didn't, but the next time Jim passed the house he saw chalked on the roof of the pigsty, "Hope you'll enjoy it."

The ice was broken—not in the canal, but the ice of nonacquaintance between these two plumes for each other. The next passing message was, "How would you like to spend it on a canal boat?" To which was made a reply, "Fast rate."

Much less has been taken for a proposal of marriage and an acceptance. The singular part of it is that the contract in this case was made before these two had a closer view of each other than a hundred yards. Nevertheless Jim regarded the matter settled, and his heart was overjoyed that he would not have to spend the coming Christmas on the towpath to keep from being lonely.

His next message was "Christmas eve." To which he received a reply, "Isn't that silent?" On seeing this loving message chalked in beautiful pure white letters on the roof of the pigsty Jim halted his mule, sat down on the deck of his boat with his legs dangling over the side and waited for a sight of his ladylove. Presently she appeared at a window and threw him a kiss. He was not satisfied with this and waited longer, but she did not appear again. Turning the board over, he chalked on the other side, "Be ready Christmas eve." Having waited till he felt sure she had seen his message, he drove on.

The day before Christmas Jim loaded up at the terminal with Christmas viands and on his way out again called on a person living beside a church that he had often noticed near the girl's house. The person promised to be on hand on Christmas eve.

Mind you, Jim was taking it all on faith. He didn't know what the girl would do, but he said that he "knew" of reckoned she would. "Dusk was falling on Christmas eve when Jim's home, containing a bridal Christmas outfit, stopped opposite the girl's home. He and the person went there and found her in her best dress. Jim had on a store suit, and at nearer view the two were mutually pleased. The old woman gave Jim a shrewd glance and was evidently satisfied. The party sat down to a supper for which a chicken had been killed, and after the dishes were washed and put away the ceremony was performed. When the old woman bade the bride goodby she said: "I reckoned when I tuk you out o' the poorhouse them red cheeks would git you a home."

Jim and his bride passed a merry Christmas in their apartments on the canalboat.

Editor Daily News:

The action of the mayors of California cities in refusing to take care of the floating unemployed is quite right.

No city has a right to assume the care of all who may choose to come to it broke and hungry, even if in a burst of shortsighted sympathy it should try to do so. Not all the cities combined, not even the whole state, is adequate to cope with the seasonal unemployment situation which has been increasing for years and is logically bound to go on increasing.

It is hard on the floaters, who have no home but the place where they unroll their blankets for the night, that the cities that are their proper resort in winter should hang out the sign "All full—move on," but self-preservation compels it, the same as the most charitable person must ultimately draw a line on the number of handouts he will stand for.

It is of no avail to say they should have learned skilled trades or become farmers; as well approach them that they did not become bankers or were not born squirrels.

The proposal that the state reclaim the million acres of desert land in Southern California had the germ of a helpful idea in it, but it was made ridiculous by the provision that a few acres should be given to each man to sink or swim with. That proposal was on a par with the benevolence that proposed to take a cargo of planks to a wrecked ship in midocean and give each survivor a plank to swim ashore with.

The unemployed situation will continue until the essentially social nature of modern industry is recognized, and ownership and administration are made to conform to its fundamental basis. Law's morals and customs grow out of the way we make our living—I. e., that the law making power makes its living.

Individual ownership originated in the epoch when each man made for himself whatever he had. Power-driven machinery has so changed the way we make things that no man now, whatever he may have, makes it himself. The whole social body is drawn in for every act within it.

Society as a whole must care for all its number, providing for each to share in the production and consumption of wealth. No work, no function that is necessary to the social welfare is either more or less honorable or worthy than any other work. Machine industry makes things so easily and rapidly there is no good reason for anyone to be unemployed. The only thing that hinders the plentiful and general diffusion of wealth is our outgrown system of private ownership that uses all development of evolution and chooses to plunge a world into war, poverty, unemployment and crime, rather than give up its prestige, which after all enables it to enjoy no more of real culture and material comforts than the scientific administration of co-operative machine industry would make accessible to all.

The reformer who thinks the unemployment question can be treated by itself is brother to the "doctor" who tried to cure a case of smallpox by poulticing the pustules.

LABOR NEWS

"In unity there is strength, united we stand divided we fall."

UNIONS GENEROUSLY AIDED STOCKTON OPEN SHOP FIGHT

Although there is peace in Stockton, the financial responsibility of the union men of California cities is not yet ended. Ever since the outbreak of the Stockton trouble there has been a financial drain on the treasuries of all the local unions. Week after week they contributed toward the Stockton fund to help their fellow workers in distress. Richmond unions were up near the top in paying their assessments.

MORE THAN 14,000,000 UNION MEN IN THE WORLD

Commissioner James M. Lynch of the New York Department of Labor reports that there are in the world 14,113,611 trade union members, an increase of 1,100,607 in a year. The larger memberships are:

Gt. Britain and Ireland	3,993,769
Germany	3,213,586
United States	2,604,701
France	1,027,057
Italy	971,667
Austria	532,970
Australia	433,224

The biggest American unions are connected with transportation, 667,845. Next come building and stone workers, 543,460, and mines and quarries, 423,300.

American unions raised in 1913 $14,139,328. Nearly $9,000,000 were expended in death benefits; only $3,500,000 for strike. The $1,355,000 used for sick benefits seems relatively small, but not all unions make such allowances. The Typographical Union paid $242,650 in old age pensions.

British unions spend $19,000,000 a year—one-third for strikes—and have $5,000,000 in accumulated funds.

TROUBLE MAY RESULT FROM HIRING NON-UNION TYPOS

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 23.—Trouble is brewing in the California State printing plant, and an open rupture between union labor and the state administration is probable. The matter hinges over the proposed employment of eight non-union printers who passed civil service examinations recently and are to be certified for work when the 1915 Legislative session opens.

P. S. Saunders, president of the Sacramento Typographical Union, intimated today that if the Civil Service Commission forces the new state printer, Robert Telfer, to accept the non-union men, a strike may be called in the plant. All employees of the printing office at present are union men.

The civil service takes no cognizance of union labor or competency except through examination.

At the regular business session of the Boilermakers' Union No. 317, this week, Frank Mallinson was elected president of the organization. S. Melville was elected vice president; William Jones, financial secretary; George Bennett, recording secretary; C. Patterson, treasurer; John Schuat, inspector, and J. Riley, C. Meara and E. Day, trustees.

Mallinson, Meara and Jones were appointed a committee to arrange a smoker to be held soon.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 24.—The Arizona prohibition law will go into effect Jan. 10. SUSPECT BEGINS JAIL SENTENCE

MAN WHO ATTACKED FLORIST TAKEN TO MARTINEZ—PAST WILL BE PROBED.

Eddie Moore was yesterday taken to the county jail at Martinez to begin serving a sentence of 120 days for battery. Moore plead guilty to the charge after striking Adolph Winters, florist, with an iron pipe last Sunday night, following a fight over change for a ten-dollar bill when Moore and a companion bought flowers.

The local police are confident that Moore and his companion meant to rob Winters, and are trying to find out more concerning Moore's past. They have learned he came only recently to the bay cities and are communicating with police officials in the East in hope of further identifying him.

Here are some convincing facts concerning the great Exposition at San Francisco:

Not one of the 42 exhibiting foreign nations has withdrawn, while three of them have increased their participation.

Seven nations involved in war and five neutral European nations will have their own buildings.

Exhibits from eleven foreign countries have already arrived.

Forty-three of our States and one city are making individual exhibits.

Finally, these exhibitors are spending more money than previously expended in any two other Expositions.

REMITS FINE FOR PRESENT

MARTINEZ, Dec. 24.—A new method for jurists to make Christmas present was discovered yesterday by Judge Bradley V. Sargent of Monterey, sitting in court here temporarily.

Bailiff William Jones was late in appearing. When he arrived the court gave him a baleful glance and read a little lecture.

"Also, you're fined $5," concluded the court.

At the end of the session the judge announced the fine was remitted. The bailiff found the judge smiling. "That's your Christmas present from me," said the court.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw at the Richmond Theatre

A picture which will cause more comment than any which has been shown to date at the Richmond theatre will commence a two-day run today. The picture is "Threads of Destiny," in which the famed Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will play the leading part.

Aside from the notoriety which this beautiful woman has achieved, she possesses rare talent as an emotional actress, and together with her little son, Russell, has added another triumph to her already long list of theatrical successes in "Threads of Destiny."

The play in itself is one of great power, and the mother love, and strange turns of the hand of Fate, and strong emotional plot, all make the scenario one of tense and heart gripping interest.

Little Russell Thaw, youthful son of the leading lady, has a difficult part, which he performs with great ease and displays real talent. Because of the increased expense of the production, the prices have been raised to 15 cents for adults, and 10 cents for children.

In addition to the feature film, one of the best comedies that has been put out by the Keystone company is shown. "The Property Man" is the title, and Charles Chapman, who simply has to step on the stage to create a laugh, is at his funniest throughout the reel.

Continuous performance today, 2 p. m. to 11 p. m.

Tales of a Million Dollars

"Sight Unseen"

Edward Froebel was a merchant of Susanville, California. He was a shrewd business man—he had to be.

But when he heard the indisputable facts about Richmond, and realized the indisputable profit to be made from that city's real estate;

And further, when he found out the indisputable record of Burg Bros., Inc.—that land they have sold has already given its buyers a Million Dollars profit—

He broke the business rule of a lifetime and bought a lot from them "off the map"—without having seen it. It cost him $550; $55 cash, $5 a month.

What result?

A few weeks ago he visited the property and was offered $5,000 for that lot—while he was looking at it for the first time!

ROBERT MORAN IS SUICIDE

make good. But I failed. I lost. Nothing remains but to end it all. God bless and protect you. Destroy all papers and my sister's address.

"BOB MORAN."

The finding of Moran's body in the bay terminates the mystery started with the discovery that there were no funds to the credit of Onetah Tribe of Red Men in the Mechanics' Bank. A check was returned Tuesday upon which was written "No funds."

Officials of the lodge were puzzled. They called up Moran and asked him to come to Pythian Hall and explain. Nothing was then suspected.

As soon as Moran received the message and knew that his deceptions had been discovered, it has since developed, he went to his room, changed clothes and left.

The police were notified and Officer Kirkpatrick went to the house. He was told that Moran would soon be in. He waited in the front room for some time. Then he went up to the room.

Moran must have gone to San Francisco, remained there over Tuesday night and taken a late ferry to Sausalito, leaving from the boat near Angel Island. The body was in the water only 12 hours, according to the doctor, and this bears out the above supposition.

The bruise on his head is something of a mystery, but there is a possibility that he received them when he jumped.

Moran did not gamble, nor drink, nor travel in fast company. He was extremely likable, cheerful and apparently had no entanglements with any women.

It is believed that he bought stocks, however, and, sure of making a "clean-up," he used all of his own money and that of the lodges to take a flyer.

There were plenty of his friends who would have seen him through the trouble by advancing him as much money as he took.

He will be buried by the Elks, in all probability. That order has decided to ask for permission to hold the funeral services.

Moran was 39 years old and had lived in Richmond for upwards of eight years. He was known by nearly every resident in the city and liked by all of them.

BOSTON BRAVES GET MAGEE FOR CHRISTMAS GIFT

STAR OUTFIELDER OF PHILADELPHIA NATIONALS GOES TO STALLINGS' CHAMPS IN BIG DEAL AFTER FREQUENT REPORTS THAT FEDS WOULD GET HIM.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 24.—Sherwood R. Magee, the hard hitting outfielder of the Philadelphia National League Club, was today traded to the Boston Nationals for cash and some players. The deal was put through at a meeting in New York today between President W. F. Baker of the Philadelphia Club and President James Gaffney of the Boston.

Magee went to New York today and after the trade was effected by the two presidents the outfielder signed a two-year contract with Boston.

The amount of cash that figured in the deal was not announced. The players the Philadelphia club will receive from the Boston team will be selected at a meeting to be held in New York next Monday by Baker, Gaffney and Manager Moran of the Philadelphia club.

There have been persistent rumors in circulation since the baseball season closed that Magee would be signed by the Federal League.

THIRTY-FIVE DEATHS DUE TO BASEBALL IN 1914, FOURTEEN KILLED IN FOOTBALL, AND THIRTY IN AUTO RACING.

While reformers are hammering the boxing game as dangerous to life, a few statistics regarding other sports prove interesting.

Baseball is not brutal, but, just glance at the figures from an accidental and fatality standpoint:

During 1914 there were 35 deaths from baseball, 20 of them being caused by being hit with a pitched ball on the head, the balance being from collisions and being hit with bats. There were 918 injuries from baseball, 314 being broken limbs and 42 very dangerous injuries.

Football claimed 14 deaths for 1914 and 65 injured, while over 30

RICHMOND IN REVIEW

CHRISTMAS EVE IS A fine time FOR everybody EXCEPT the fellows WHO work ON MORNING papers, AND railroad men, AND street car men, AND policemen, AND firemen, AND MILK WAGON drivers, AND the boys WHO DO guard duty IN ALL-NIGHT restaurants, AND THE mahogany swabbers WHO HAVE to keep sober TO "fill-em-up-again." "An—have-one-yourself," WITH THE lonesome lads WHO HAVEN'T any better way TO celebrate, AND a few other SLAVES that work ON Christmas.

BUT whoope! WE'RE GOING to let THE CITY of Richmond DRAG along THE BEST it can WITHOUT any nut column ON Saturday AND TAKE a day off Friday. WE WERE undecided FOR some time AS TO the means AND manner OF celebrating. BILL RYAN, THE lucky dog, WILL GO home AND PUT on some rope whiskers TO fool that MONTH-OLD boy of his WITH SOME of this SANTA CLAUS business. Unfortunately WE HAVE no son AND Santa Claus CAN'T sneak into A HOTEL room WITHOUT a chimney. SO WE CAN'T expect A VISIT from him. WE MIGHT hire A BIG automobile AND joy ride ON Christmas. But AGAIN unfortunately, OUR SUMMER wages HAVE mysteriously Disappeared. WHEN BUSH told ABOUT FRANK SCHUMACHER FINDING that five spot IN his vest, I WENT through EVERY pocket IN MY clothes, THINKING something LIKE that MIGHT happen to me. AND when I came TO THE last pocket I FOUND something WADDLED down in the corner, AND my heart JUMPED into my throat, AND I fished it out. —THE PAPER, not the Heart— BUT IT WAS A bill FROM THE laundry man. Well, I HAVE good health AND A LARGE appetite, AND A job. I SHOULD worry! AND I am going TO CUT this out AND GO where A GOOD fellow WILL RATTLE up a tall one FOR me: FULL OF Christmas cheer, AND dynamite, AND THEN I'll go out AND TRY TO whip a policeman

AND GET a free joyride IN OLIVER WYLIE'S NEW patrol wagon. SO HERE'S HOW! AND THE compliments of the season AND A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO everybody

PEACE WITH HER VICTORIES NO LESS THAN WAR. THEN WHY FIGHT?

Willie Ritchie has been frequently and severely criticised for his lack of enthusiasm for a fight unless there is a large wad of coin tied up and waiting for him. But why should he be anxious to have his roof torn off for the price of a small savings bank? Willie will be able to keep the wolf from the door for quite a while without pulling on a glove. Witness the small change he garnered in for six battles and the following theatrical engagements. Ritchie received for fighting: Joe Rivers, $18,000; Leach Cross, $7000; Ad Wolgast, $16,000; Tommy Murphy, $15,000; Charlie White, $10,000; Freddie Welsh, $25,000; theatrical engagements, $30,000.

Considering that the President of the United States drags down $75,000 a year for working only about 18 hours a day, can you blame Willie for expecting a reasonable sum for sixty minutes of boxing.

CELEBRATES A BIT TOO HEARTILY—SENT TO JAIL

L. D. Siebert figures that at Christmas time a fellow ought to be liberal with his money. So when James Sullivan, who runs a saloon at 401 Barrett avenue, asked Siebert to take charge of the saloon temporarily Wednesday, Siebert decided to play Santa Claus.

When Sullivan came back to the saloon Siebert was gone. So was $45. The police rounded up Siebert after he had spent about $15 of the money for Christmas cheer in liquid form.

Yesterday Siebert plead guilty to a petty larceny charge. Judge Lindsey presented him a thirty-day meal ticket with the county.

VAG GOES UP FOR THIRTY DAYS

Jose Ruiz, who plead guilty to a charge of vagrancy, was yesterday taken to Martinez to serve thirty days in the county jail. He was suspected of being implicated in a bad check deal among Mexican track laborers at San Pablo.

He was identified by local officers as having served a sentence in San Quentin for burglary in Tulare county under the name of Torres.

RED MEN MEET EMERGENCY.

Despite the depleted condition of their treasury, the Red Men are proving equal to the emergency and members have subscribed liberally to the fund needed to carry on the lodge business.

NOODLES

Pen Paralysis! Have you got it?

NO, we do not mean merely paralysis of the fingers. We mean another kind of paralysis far more serious; the kind that paralyzes the pen writer—not sometimes but always.

Pen writing in this age means needless time waste, needless labor waste, needless fatigue.

Every one who continues to write with the pen in this day of the typewriter is placing himself under a heavy time and labor handicap, a handicap which means partial paralysis of all his energies.

The cure for pen paralysis, the new and certain cure, is the

Remington JUNIOR Typewriter

It is a Remington Typewriter, the newest Remington product, as swift and durable and reliable as any Remington, but smaller, lighter, simpler and more portable than the standard Remington models. It is built on purpose for the home, the traveler, the doctor, the clergyman, the farmer, the retailer—for everyone who needs a small, compact typewriter for the simpler uses like manuscript and letter writing. Just the machine for which you have been waiting.

The price of the Remington Junior is $50.00, cash with order. For $55.00 we will sell you a Remington Junior on terms of $5.00 down and $5.00 a month. Cut out the attached coupon and send it to us with $5.00 in cash, check or money order, and we will send the machine.

Remington Typewriter Co.
I enclose herewith $5.00 on receipt of which please send me a Remington Junior Typewriter. It is understood that I may return the machine if I choose, within ten days of the receipt of the machine, for a full refund of the $5.00, less transportation charges.
If I retain the machine, I agree to pay for it an additional sum of $50.00, in monthly payments of $5.00 each.

CHRISTMAS EVE CELEBRATED AT CHURCH

SANTA CLAUS STOPS WITH WEST SIDE METHODISTS AND LEAVES GIFTS.

Christmas eve was successfully celebrated last night at the First Methodist church on the west side, with an enjoyable program of songs, recitations and exercises by the church members and the Sunday school children.

Santa Claus stopped at the church on his travels last night and distributed a liberal number of gifts.

To Rev. P. E. Petersen, the pastor, he brought a gigantic stocking filled with good things.

The building was crowded with members and friends of the church and last night's entertainment was pronounced by many to have been the best ever given there.

There will be a Christmas service in the church at 11 o'clock this morning and the regular services will be held Sunday.
